
Welcome to

AAPAC

African-American Parent Advisory Council

We are an advocacy group made up of families of African-American students, the school staff, and community members who are committed to the academic success and awareness of our African

