All pathway students have an opportunity to go on experiential study trips to relevant places of employment and education.

Pathway teachers and industry partners work together to help students create résumés and practice interviewing skills during their junior year.

Pathway juniors meet with industry mentors and are assisted to apply for a summer internship before senior year.

During their senior year, students participate in a service learning project in the community. Their pathway experience culminates with a presentation to a panel of professionals highlighting their learning experience and fielding questions.

There are a number of ways we welcome parents, community and business partners to get involved! Please visit wccusdpathways.org and hit the “Get Involved” button to see the various ways we could use your help! You will be contacted by our Work-Based Learning Coordinator, who will help to make the arrangements easy for you and to ensure a positive experience.
